American Agricultural Chemical Co. and Brown Co. Named in Complaints Issued by Federal Trade Commission for Suppressing Competition

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 5.—Complaints were issued today by the Federal Trade Commission against the American Agricultural Chemical Company of Connecticut, and the Brown Company of New Jersey, charging unfair methods in suppressing competition in the manufacture and sale of fertilizer.
These are the first results of the Federal Trade Commission's investigation being conducted by Francis J. Heney.
Both companies are charged with purchasing raw material at prices prohibitive for small competitors, thereby punishing the small firms who refuse to enter working agreements with the two companies.

The American Agricultural Chemical Company is charged with having acquired the entire stock of the Brown Company during 1917, which had the effect of lessening competition thereby tending to create monopoly. A hearing on the complaints has been set for April 10.

TRYING TO REMOVE IN. REVENUE

Report has it that another drive is being made to remove the Internal Revenue office to Concord. As soon as this became known a movement was started to have it transferred to Portland. The reason given for all this talk is said to be on account of lack of room. There is more room in the building here than there is at Portland or Concord and the office belonging here. It is more central here and has been a fixture for years.

Ayer, March 5.—William Nimke of Torrington, Conn., a sergeant in Co.
F, 301st Engineers at Camp Devens, was given a 30 year sentence today for unpatriotic utterances. He was tried by a general court martial on February 5th. He was taken to Fort Jay, N. Y., immediately to begin his sentence.
Nimke was tried on three counts, on two of which he was found guilty.
In one of these he was charged with saying: "If I am put in charge of a party on the other side, I will surrender to the Germans no matter what their strength may be." And in the other with remarking: "I will fight for the United States as long as I am kept on this side of the Atlantic, but if I am sent to the other side I will act independently."

The third count on which Nimke was found not guilty, charged that he had said if he was sent to the other side his father and brothers would take up arms against this country.

WILL TAKE OVER DOCKS AT HOBOKEN

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 5.—President Wilson intends to take over the Hamburg-American and the North German Lloyd Steamship companies wharves and docks at Hoboken, N. J. It ear-ranged with Senator Martin, Democratic leader, for an amendment to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill giving him such authority.

Although the government has been using the docks of the two German companies, President Wilson told Senator Martin at a White House conference today, that it was deemed necessary to take over the legal title.
The President arranged with Attorney General Gregory to advise congress of the legal situation.

SIGNIFICANT MEETING IN PARIS

(By Associated Press)
Paris, March 5.—Significance is attached to a meeting of the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies held this afternoon which was attended by Foreign Minister Pinchon, the understanding being that the Russian situation as it affects the Far East was under discussion.
The committee men say that the news report of the meeting allowed it to be understood that it now seems certain that all the allies are now in agreement to leave Japan the task of intervening in Manchuria and Siberia.

PHONE STRIKE CALLED FOR THURSDAY

Operators in Nineteen New England Cities, Including Manchester and Concord, Serve Notice on Company

Boston, March 5.—Officials of the telephone operators union today served notice on the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company that a strike of operators in 19 New England cities would go into effect on Thursday unless wage increase demands were granted. Exchanges in Manchester and Concord, N. H., are among those which would be affected by the strike. The operators have asked for a wage increase which would place these exchanges on practically the same scale as Boston with a maximum of $16 per week. The present maximum ranges from $14 to $15. A committee from the operators' union conferred with officials of the company today, but no agreement was reached. The company announced later that it was willing to submit the question to arbitration.

JAPAN ASKED TO ACT IN SIBERIA

Allies Look to Her to Protect Allies Interest—May Act Quickly.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 4.—Military action by Japan to check the German influence at Vladivostok and in eastern Siberia is believed to be imminent. Although the United States has not as yet expressed its views in the matter it is said that Japan would not act quickly leaving the details of the scope of the invasion etc. to the allies to decide later. While it has no direct bearing the news that Germany had notified Sweden that she would occupy Finland is hastening the Japanese movement.

London, March 4.—British, French and Italian ambassadors at Tokyo were today to formally ask Japan to take the necessary steps to safeguard the allies' interest in Eastern Siberia. Although the American ambassador was not in the party it is understood that this is not taken to mean that the United States will not object to Japan's move.

BOTH SIDES MASS FOR AN ATTACK

Washington, March 4.—Vast preparations both by the allies and Germans are going forward rapidly on the west front for the great struggle. "The momentum of the battle is increasing," said the war department's weekly review today.

"The enemy continues to bring up fresh troops. The allied war council is now in continuous session, assuring complete unity and flexibility of control."

The third month of "relative quiescence" on the western front has now come to its close, the statement warns. "During this time both belligerent groups have been massing their forces." "The British have extended their front. Our own forces have been over a sector northwest of Toul. In addition a number of our detached units are in action in Champagne."

And the fighting which has been going on between the Americans and the Germans during the past week may give an idea, the statement added, of what is taking place on an even larger scale along the entire western front.

Patrols Active
Operations in the eastern theatre are expected to affect events in France through a modification of German plans, the review intimates.

Turkish forces advancing in the Caucasus are meeting with little resistance and are massacring Armenian residents of the districts taken from the Russians.

The review says in part: "There is evidence that the enemy continues to bring up fresh units. Owing to transportation difficulties this lured. Our troops have arrived before Narva.

"The armies of Kirchbach and Eichenhorn continued in their uninterrupted advance by way of Dvinsk and Minsk and after hard fighting captured Pskov, Polotsk and Borisov. At Borisov, a junction with the Polish divisions was effected.

"Detachments of the army group of General von Lipsingen, with the approval of the British Government, have ordered fighting on the railway line from Leningrad, via Rostov, on the Dnieper, as far as Gomel, and have had several engagements. Other divisions under General von Knorin have cleared the roads leading from Kiev and the Kiev-Schmerinka railway line of the enemy after breaking his resistance. In cooperation with the Ukrainians, Kiev was captured. German and Austro-Hungarian troops have entered Sherika.

"The booty taken from the enemy cannot as yet be even approximately estimated. According to reports at hand there are in our possession $100 officers and $7,000 men. In booty we have taken 2400 guns, over 8000 machine guns, thousands of vehicles, including 5000 motor cars, 11 armored automobiles, 200,000 boxes of artillery ammunition, 12,500 rifles, 800 locomotives, and 8000 railway trucks.

"The booty taken at Rostov were 220 guns, 22 airplanes, and a lot of rolling stock. Thirty officers and 500 men were taken prisoner."

GERMANS TO TAKE CONTROL OF FINLAND

(By Associated Press)
Although military operations along the French and Belgium front daily are growing in magnitude the situation in Russia holds a prominent place in the eye of the world. Scant advice that are finding their way out of Petrograd indicate that while the Germans have ceased operations in Greater Russia since the signing of the peace treaty with the Bolshevik government, they are now concentrating their energy against Finland and in the south the Austrians are driving ahead in Pabell in an endeavor to drive the Bolsheviks from Ukraine and insure a safe control of the territory which means so much to them in the future for food supplies.

While the Germans justify their invasion of Finland by the statement that they are to drive out the Bolsheviks and the red guard, their ambition is the entire control of that country as they have notified Sweden.

In eastern Siberia the Bolsheviks are evidently planning to place every obstacle in the way of a Japanese invasion of Siberia as they have destroyed bridges and it is stated have mined many other sections of the Trans-Siberian railroad in preparation for blowing them up.

Since Sunday the Germans have left the Americans alone on the Toul sector, probably finding that their raids were too costly in loss of men, they have ceased and have even materially reduced their artillery fire and use of gas shells. The American artillery men in the meanwhile have been scoring great hits and they effectually shelled a large cantonment where troops were gathered with considerable loss to the Germans.

South of the Ypres the Australians have carried out a big raid and killed fifty Germans and taken many prisoners. The nearest approach to a battle was between the French and Germans on the Verdun sector when the French in a big raid at Colonne and penetrated the German line to the fourth line taking 150 prisoners and destroying dug outs and shelters.

In the Palestine the British have made another advance against the Turks on a front of twelve miles they penetrated to a depth of 2000 yards.

COUNTRY CLUB MEETING

A meeting of the Portsmouth Country Club was held on Monday evening at the directors rooms of the New Hampshire National Bank and the following nominating committee was appointed to bring in a list of officers for the club at the annual meeting the first Monday in April: Dr. E. B. Eastman, F. M. Sisco, J. M. Washburn, B. M. Randall and Dr. C. W. Mansford.

The report of the executive committee raising the dues and making other changes in the constitution was accepted and the proper amendment laid on the table until the next meeting for action.

The action of the Executive committee granting all club members who are serving in the army or navy, away from this city, a leave of absence with remittance of dues, was approved. There are many of the club members in the various branches, some in France and others at sea, and while they are away they are retained in good standing on the membership roll.

Fourteen groups deal with trades, eight with education, eight with mobilization, six with the supply of raw materials, and the others with finance, agriculture, housing and employment.

HEAD OF R. R. BETTERMENT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 4.—Robert L. Vreeland, chairman of the Union Pacific Board of Directors and later director of the war industries and military board, was today appointed by Director General McAdoo as head of a new division of betterment of the railroads. He has resigned from the Union Pacific and all corporate interest to devote his entire time to the improvement of the roads under government control.

CHOPPING THE TRAIN SERVICE

Washington, March 4.—Passenger train service between Chicago and St. Louis was cut 40 per cent by the director-general of the railroads today. Simultaneously with the reduction in the train service, interchangeable tickets were ordered placed on sale in both Chicago and St. Louis.

This marked the beginning of the colossal wholesale slashing of western and middle western passenger service and attendant expenses.

The new service is effective March 17. Six of 15 passenger trains between the two cities were ordered discontinued.

The trimming of the Chicago-St. Louis service will reduce the passenger mileage of trains between these two cities a minimum of 16,706 miles a month, it is estimated.

Compelling trains at approximately the same hours will be eliminated and railroad administration officials give assurance the public will not be particularly inconvenienced. It is estimated the new schedules will save $538,000 of cost a month. Freight traffic also will be improved.

Railroad tickets will be good on any line. Further removal of competitive trains west of the Mississippi is expected soon.

New York, March 4.—Wireless apparatus sufficiently powerful to communicate with Germany, was seized when Richard Arund at one-time manager of the German station at Sayville, N.Y., was taken in custody.

The outfit was found in the lower room of 111 Broadway and although it was disconnected, experts claim that it could be assembled in thirty minutes to work. The raid was made by United States Marshall McCarthy with an army intelligence officer and a wireless expert.

Arund at first refused to allow the men to enter saying that he was engaged in making experiments for the navy, but when they threatened to knock down the door he opened it. He is said to have made an explanation after being taken into custody but it was not made public. He claims to be doing work for the navy was verified.

No Cause for Jealousy.

Occasionally there appear in print statements which indicate the presence of jealousy here and there among the different bodies in the service. There have been published numerous letters from volunteers which showed that the writers felt that more honors have been paid to draftees than to the men who enlisted, this feeling doubtless springing from the fact that many bodies of drafted men have been given great send-offs by the communities from which they went, while the volunteers in many cases had been allowed to depart without demonstration. And now a poem has appeared which was evidently written by a bluejacket who feels that the navy is not coming in for its share of glory. The burden of the poem is that there is a general glorifying of the army while but little thought is bestowed upon the navy by the poets and others who are singing the praises of the boys in khaki.

But there is no good ground for any feeling of this sort, and it is to be regretted that it exists in any quarter. The people of this country are not unmindful of the noble part being enacted by every member of every branch of the national defense, on land and on sea, and are not disposed to discriminate in the manifestation of their appreciation.

Many of the volunteer troops drifted away quietly, a few at a time, or were parts of the regular army and so found themselves in active service without formality. When the draft came it took large bodies of men at a time, and when they left for the training camps they were given farewells which were an honor to them and a credit to the communities from which they went. That explains the difference in demonstrations, so far as there has been any.

And none should believe that there is more admiration for the men in the ranks than for those who are serving in the navy. Thus far in this war the army has been more conspicuously in the public eye than the navy. Bodies of troops have gone out from many towns, train loads of them have been moved to and from the training camps and many are on the other side of the water, some being in close contact with the grim business in hand. For this reason they are talked and written about more than the sailors, but this does not prove that the services and arings of the latter are less appreciated. And an American soldier is an American soldier, whether a volunteer or a draftee, and the folks at home are making no discrimination.

There is glory enough for all and no legitimate ground for jealousy in any quarter. The hearts of the people are with every man in the service. They are not asking how he came there or in what branch he is serving, and if there are any who feel that others are being honored above themselves they should dismiss the thought at once. It is unworthy of them and unworthy of their country.

The men on the land and sea are fighting in a common cause and will be equal sharers in a great and common glory when the clouds have rolled away.

Director General McAdoo is on the right track when he forbids the creation of new offices and the increase of salaries by the railroads. There is evidence that some of the railroad heads would like to have a good time at the expense of the government, and the tendency cannot be suppressed too promptly or emphatically.

The return of coast guard men from the coast to the Great Lakes is as significant as the flight of wild geese northward. It means that the season of ice and snow is nearing its end, and it is a safe presumption that all are ready for the transition to more tolerable climatic conditions.

Some days of late have been suggestive of maple sugar. The season for the sweetest crop in the world is almost here and it is only to be hoped that it will be as favorable as it promises to be, and that the sugar makers will roll up their sleeves and do their level best.

What's this? Portsmouth headed for the position of third city in population in New Hampshire? Well, it's all right. This paper has been telling you right along that Portsmouth is a "comer." Let everybody put his shoulder to the wheel and help it come.

Now there is talk of compulsory food conservation in public eating places. The time may come when the farmer's table will be, what it has long been considered by many, the best in the world.

The secret is out. William Jennings Bryan says he wears his hair long to hide his ears. But Mr. Bryan's ears do any camouflage. They have been showing all the time.

Isn't It Funny?

Who dare say that Germans lack the sense of humor—with Count von Hertling depicting the Germany of Prussianism distrustful of the good faith of other nations?

Gunning For Trouble

(From the New York Herald)
May it not be remarked in passing that those Sinn Féiners who stone American sailors to the accompaniment of cheers for Germany and Turkey and Bulgaria have, to say the least, peculiar ideas of how to make friends for Irish Freedom in America?

The Diplomacy of Good Will

(From the Buffalo Express)
The United States is granting exceptional privileges to Canadian fishing vessels without first obtaining a promise of reciprocal privileges for Americans from Canada and Newfoundland. It is evidently trying to see whether this good-will diplomacy will not bring the desired results better than hard bargaining. The Canadians will be ill appreciative of the new international spirit if it does not.

A Call for "Floating Palaces"

(From the Hibernian)
The ferry boats to East Boston have been a disgrace to the city for years and it is about time that something resembling ferry boats and not mud-scoops were installed in place of the jokes on navigation operated between Boston and East Boston. If they were used in navigating along the Charles River from Cottage Farm Bridge to Cambridge street everybody on Beacon street with a house facing on the Charles would keep their windows closed and call for the board of health. How long would they last on the Charles?

The Growth of a Legend

(From the Hartford Courant)
The past week has shown but two instances of the plot to drive the United States out of the war by placing powdered glass in the baby's candy. The one nearest home was reported from Stonington, where the glass in this case was found in or upon gum drops. The other comes from California and is to the effect that glass has been found in bread served to the inmates of an orphan asylum. It is only a question of time when the country will be shocked by the intelligence that Mrs. David Higgins of Jericho Centre, Vt., has found traces of wheat in a bag of flour that came from the store at Jericho Centre.

The Voice of American Labor

(From a Declaration by Samuel Gompers, Head of the American Federation of Labor)
The Republic of the United States is not perfect; it has the imperfections of the human—but it is the best country on the face of the earth; and those who do not love it enough to work for it, to fight for it, to die for it, are not worthy of the privilege of living in it. I say to the Kaiser, I say to the German, in the name of the American labor movement: You can't talk peace with us; you can't talk to us at all now. We are fighting now. Either you smash your Kaiser autocracy or we will smash it for you.

British Labor to German Labor

(From a Statement by Joseph Havelock Wilson, President of the British Seamen's Union)
"Will German labor agree to a peace which would benefit world labor at the cost of thwarting Germany's military programme? I answer, No. The wage earners of Germany—the whole people of Germany—have been for war from the beginning. There is no drawing a line between the people of Germany and their Government. I say with Mr. Gompers to German labor: You can't talk peace with us. We are fighting now. Either you smash your Kaiser autocracy or we will smash it for you."

Obstinate Mr. Burleson

(From the Springfield Republican)
What shall it profit a Postoffice Department to make an alleged "profit" of $50,000 a year, and fail to give proper service in any part of this broad land? Saving by cutting down service is an abomination in the sight of all the people. These are basic considerations to which some consideration should be paid in Washington. There might be some leniency shown if the trouble did not antedate the interference of the war with our transportation facilities, but the disorganization was brought about long ago, and is, of course, intensified now. It is perfectly safe to say that every newspaper in the United States, without regard to politics or location, has been kicking for weary months and years. The whole situation demonstrates that Mr. Burleson is a very obstinate man, but there is no comfort in that.

Year's Pay, 6 Months' Work

(From the Providence Journal)
Apparently the patience of the taxpayers of Boston is to be tested again by the fire department. One of the Boston newspapers takes the ground that, in these times of uncertainty, it should not be necessary for the city to protect against the passage of a two platoon bill, for the firemen now have exceptional privileges. Not long since the one-day-off-in-three rule was adopted at the request of the firemen and now the two platoon system is being urged on the assumption that Boston will agree to anything that these municipal employees choose to ask. With sixteen-day vacations and one off in three, the firemen now have the equivalent of four and one-half months off at full pay. The two platoon system, as explained, provides for the equivalent of six months vacation. If allowed, what will the next demand be? These unceasing requests for favors for the firemen indicate a feeling that the Boston taxpayers will concede anything, rather than insist upon their rights. It would seem that a proposition for six-months vacations without cuts in the payroll ought to arouse the taxpayers if they believe in getting an equivalent for their money.

Lies For a Short War

(From the Springfield Republican)
What would have been demanded of France if at the outbreak of the war it had yielded to the German ultimatum requiring a pledge of neutrality? Just been revealed by the foreign minister, Stephen Pichon, who states that only lately had the French Government known of the authenticity of the document. This consists of a telegraphed letter of instructions sent by Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg to the German ambassador at Paris, dated July 31, 1914. France refused the demand that it promise neutrality, and therefore did not at the time learn that Baron von Schoen was instructed, in the last paragraph of this despatch, to require, as a guaranty of French neutrality, the handing over of the fortresses of Toul and Verdun; "we will occupy them and will restore them at the end of the war with Russia." At least the statement that "we will occupy them" may be taken as meant in good faith. Long ago the German pretense that it was forced to fight a defensive war were too thin to deceive, and now that the war aims in the east are being realized, Germany hardly troubles to keep up the farce. The German lies of 1914 were probably thought good enough for so short a war as was then expected; they have not stood four years of hard wear.

Are Enemy Allies in Our Camps?

(From the Detroit Free Press)
If we understand a recent decision by Judge Tuttle in the local Federal Court, a situation exists in the American Army that calls for immediate correction. In the first draft Actilians were conscripted, a proceeding entirely proper at the time as they were not then enemy aliens. But their status has changed since, war having been declared on the country of their nationality, and there appears to be no machinery for removing them from our forces. The courts are impotent to gather from the decision, because the subject is one for the legislative branch of the Government, and Congress has apparently neglected to make provision for these cases.

If this is the situation, it should be rectified. This nation cannot afford to set an example of barbarism by conscripting men to fight against their fellow-countrymen, even if there were any necessity for doing so, while the military power of the United States remains adequate. To draft Austrians and send them to our trenches will furthermore invite reprisals by the Teutonic Powers, and it would be a vivid humiliation of our courage if we should find Americans in German and Austrian armies opposed to our own sons and their brothers. Congress should give consideration to the situation and find means to remedy its faults, if they are in reality as grave as they seem in the light of Judge Tuttle's decision. Alien enemies in our cantonments should be sent back to their homes. They can be interned, if need be, but they ought not to be in our army.

With Aboriginal Spirit

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer)
There are 2200 Indian volunteers in the American Army for the war against Germany and 300 in the Navy. Indians have spent $10,000,000 for Liberty bonds. Indians have vastly increased their cultivated acreage at the call of the Government. Everywhere the aborigines are doing their utmost in the cause of freedom and proving their worthiness to be ranked as true Americans.

There is every reason why the Indians should be good Americans today. The Indian's grievance against the white man has always been that the white man took what he wanted because he was strong. When the Indian took arms in protest the white man killed him. Only in comparatively recent years has the white man's conscience awakened. Nowadays the Indian is treated as a desirable citizen and every possible effort is exerted to make amends for the wrongs of the past. Today the intelligent Indians see Germany trying to do to all the world what the white man did to the Indian. Germany, because she is strong, has planned to take whatever she desires from the peoples that are not so strong in Belgium and Serbia. She has shown what she hopes to do in greater lands. Against this spirit the Indian is ready to fight as his fathers and forefathers fought against the aggressions of the ancestors of the men who today welcome him as a brother in arms.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Back From France

Marine Gunner William H. Stevens of this city who has been with the American forces in France, has returned home and is at present awaiting orders. He was formerly stationed at the local yard barracks and the patrol ship Southern previous to his appointment as gunner.

Rating Changed

Charles Green, a former member of the naval band, has changed his rating to that of shipfitter in the service and has been assigned to the U. S. S. Southern.

Several Want to Go

Several navy yard mechanics are said to have appeared for enrollment in the naval reserve for duty in Ireland on aviation construction work. It is understood that they failed to make the service from the fact that they could not be spared from such duty as they are now performing for the government here.

Enroll for Ireland

Forrest Godfrey of Portsmouth, Ernest Morgan of Waterville, Me., John Littlefield of Raymond, N. H., Richard Wildes of Dover, Frank Hooper of Elliot, have enrolled for service on aviation construction work in Ireland.

The men are all from the boatshop at the local navy yard and though they are anxious for the service abroad, there seems to be a question whether or not they can be spared from the present government work. The matter is in the hands of the local yard officials who are likely to put the matter up to the department for final decision.

Banquet on Wednesday Night

The officers of the Industrial Department and the supervisory force of the same department will sit down to a banquet at the yard lunch room on Wednesday night. Tickets will be set for 450 and that number are expected to be present and partake of the menu. A few speakers will be on the program and a vaudeville show will later follow at the yard theatre in Building 95.

Only a Few This Time

Two engineers, one teamster, and one chauffeur made up the list of men called by the yard Industrial Department today.

EXETER STUDENT GETS RICH QUICK

Camp Devens, March 5.—Making more money than his general ancestor "million dollar kid" has been discovered at camp. Wisdom or luck at stocks is the answer to the "earning" capacity of the newest financially independent private.

This young soldier has earned through stocks since he entered the national army last fall $11,000. And he hails from Amesbury. The young man who is showing the city "fellows" the way is Sergeant Raymond Simson, attached to G. Company of the 302d Machine Gun Battalion.

He was a student at Exeter before the draft and had made a reputation as a star baseball player. He is to be transferred shortly to the balloon school of the aviation section at Omaha, Neb.

A VETERAN OF THE WAR AT TWENTY-ONE

New York, March 5.—James Randall of Charlestown, Mass., a 21-year-old veteran of the world war, brought to an Atlantic port today a story of fighting the Germans on land and sea seldom rested by returning soldiers. Invalided home with a well earned discharge and the memory of four brothers lost in the war, James Randall's soldier life ended as he walked down the gangplank of a British steamer.

Few Americans who have gone to France have had the experience of this young man. He has been shot, gassed and nearly drowned. His face told the suffering which he has been through.

"There were five of us brothers, Harold, Leroy, Frederick, Thomas and myself—when the war broke out in 1914," he said. "Four were killed and it's luck that I wasn't."

"In September, 1914, Howard, Leroy and myself went to Canada and joined the 42d Battalion—the Canadian Black Watch. It was called, Frederick enlisted in Australia and Thomas went to London and joined a British regiment about that time."

"Howard and Leroy were killed during the fighting at Ypres, Frederick was killed at Gallipoli, and Thomas on the Somme."

"I went through several flights during the early part of 1916. It was July when I received my first order to go over the top. The Germans were ready for us though, and I got hit by machine gun fire. I woke up in a hospital and discovered I had three wounds. I also discovered I was very lucky for the battalion was wiped out. When I left the hospital I decided to join the Lancashire Fusiliers."

"All went well until March of last year during the heavy fighting on the Somme river. I got a touch of the gas and thought I was finished. On Jan. 28 last I was honorably discharged. I took passage on board the steamer Aurania."

"The vessel was pretty well filled and was one of a convoy when we started out. That afternoon we were hit by a torpedo. There was an explosion and I was soon racing for the deck. I later found myself in the captain's boat."

"We rowed away a short distance and out of the water popped a periscope of a submarine. One of the seamen made a hit at it with an oar but missed."

"The captain saw that the Aurania would remain up a while, so returned and beached her. We were picked up by patrol vessels."

DRAFT BOARD DECISION IS REVERSED

Nashua, March 5.—The New Hampshire District draft board today notified the Nashua draft board that it had reversed the decision of the Nashua board in the case of Halpin Plath, son of a rich manufacturer, placing him in Class I instead of class 4, where the Nashua board placed him as an "Industrial worker."

This was done on the appeal of U. S. Appeal Agent Ivory C. Eaton. Young Plath, up to eight months ago was a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He then came to work in his father's shop.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 600 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—itching, which varies widely but may include pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatic pains, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right the danger is overcome. Doan's Kidney Pills have proven an effective kidney medicine.

Mrs. H. A. Fernald, 121 Northwest Street, Portsmouth, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have had good results. My back ached most of the time until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They have never failed to correct this trouble."

REWARDS WOMAN WHO KILLS DOG

Concord, March 5.—Mrs. Annie G. Faver of Hopkinton has been given $25 by the state committee on public safety as a reward for her efficiency in disposing of a sheep-killing dog. Mrs. Faver saw a dog harrying her sheep and picking up a gun dispatched the dog. The safety committee last fall offered $25 to any person who would bring about conviction of an owner of a sheep-killing dog, and while Mrs. Faver did not meet the requirement literally by having the owner in court, she did put the bothersome dog where he would not destroy any more sheep and the committee considered she was entitled to the reward.

CLOSE CALL FOR ED POLO, SERIAL STAR.

Hero of "The Bull's Eye" Rolls Down 60-foot Embankment on Horseback and Camera Catches It All.

Publicity "stories" born of imagination sometimes gain more credence than do recitals of actual truths, but the experience Eddie Polo lived through while filming a scene for the Universal serial, "The Bull's Eye," constitutes one more proof that truth is stranger than fiction.

Polo's fall down the steep side of an embankment, with horse and rider rolling to the bottom, clearly shows in one of the episodes of "The Bull's Eye," and offers to spectators a thrill that was not originally dreamed by Director James W. Horne.

A band of cowboys had pursued Polo to the ends of a 60-foot cliff when the brink suddenly crumbled and gave way, and the horse and its rider plunged down the rock declivity and landed in a heap at the bottom. Other members of the company who witnessed the fall rushed to the spot, expecting to find the leading man killed or at least fatally injured, but to their amazement they found that neither Polo nor his sturdy little mount had been damaged to any extent.

According to the original plans the film would have shown Polo pursued to the edge of a cliff by a band of cattle rustlers, intent on capturing him. Here, with retreat cut off he was to have tied his lariet to his saddle and lowered himself down the side—a risky stunt in itself. Fortunately the camera filming the episode was so placed that it caught the entire mishap, and it is doubtful if another scene as amusing as this one will be seen upon the screen again, for no human being could be induced deliberately to take such a hazardous risk with the odds so greatly against the prospect that he would be alive at the finish.

BURNS DEFEATED TOM DRAAK

Match Ended When Draak Was Injured by Being Thrown From the Ring --He Had Taken the First Fall.

Cyclone Burns got the decision over Tom Draak at Freeman's hall on Monday evening in one of the fastest bouts ever seen in this city. The decision coming after fifty-three minutes of hard going on the second fall when Burns threw Draak over his head and he went through the ring to the floor and was knocked out.

He was taken to the dressing room and three physicians attended him and after about twenty minutes he came out. He struck on his head and the attending physicians said that he had a slight concussion of the brain.

It was an unfortunate ending of what up to this time had been a great match. Draak who outweighs Burns by at least twenty pounds, got the first fall after thirty-three minutes of hard going with a full body hold, smothering his lighter opponent to the mat.

Both are wonderfully fast men, with Draak having the great advantage in youth and weight, but Burns gave a great exhibition of the kind of wrestling that has made him famous the country over. Time after time he would dig out of what looked like good holds, and the same is true of Draak, who on one occasion was pinned with a full body but rolled Burns off.

The second bout was very fast, with Burns at times inclined to rough it, although as a whole it was a remarkably clean exhibition of wrestling. Burns took the offensive in the second bout and several times he looked as though he would pin Draak to the mat, but each time he managed to tear him self clear, once out of a full body and army bar that looked like a sure winner. They were wrestling for fifty-three minutes when they were in a standing hold, when suddenly Burns swung his heavier opponent over his head and he shot through the ropes. He went feet first and from some parts of the hall it looked as though he would not be hurt, but he came down full weight on his shoulders and head and laid perfectly quiet. Burns jumped from the ring to assist him and he was taken to the dressing room and after waiting fifteen minutes Referee Eastbrook announced that he awarded the match to Burns as Draak was unable to appear.

Later in the evening Draak was removed to his hotel and in an hour's time he was apparently alright although dazed.

Butcher, Smart and Medcalf wrestled twenty minutes to a draw and it was a fast and interesting bout.

"COMMON CLAY" WELL PRESENTED

The Myrtle-Harvey company, opened a week's engagement at the Colonial Theatre with a performance that will assure them packed houses the remainder of the week.

Their opening performance was "Common Clay," an American drama in four acts, made famous by John Craig and his wife and presented by arrangements with Craig. It is a wonderfully strong play that requires a strong company to properly interpret.

and the company last evening had all of those qualifications.

For the stock company it is most excellently balanced and the entire cast last evening seemed well chosen for their parts from Miss Myrtle to the least important player.

The play itself is too well known to require description, other than that it is considered by critics to be one of the most dramatic plays written for some years, with the principal characters requiring a nicely of handling that forbids anybody but a competent

HERE AND THERE WITH THE SPORTS

The baseball fans are now beginning to talk about the local Sunset League and it will not be long before the donors will be holding nightly meetings on Congress street. All indications point to a successful season for 1918. Report has it that there are a number of crack ball tossers among the recent arrivals in Portsmouth, now working at the navy yard and ship plants. The naval reserve will also furnish a number of stars as will the marine corps and coast artillery. What about Walter Woods and Chris Heffernan, as umpires? They certainly filled the bill last season, and taken as a whole the umpiring was very satisfactory to all.

The boxing contest tonight is the topic of conversation among the local sports. Johnny Wilson comes to Portsmouth with a real reputation and is considered by boxing authorities to be one of the best 125-lb boxers in the country. Crosby, who is from the West Coast is now attached to the U. S. S. Frederick. Little is known of his ability in the east, but clippings from western newspapers, show that he ranks high among the boxers west of the Mississippi. The crowd of the Frederick have all kinds of confidence in Crosby and the sailor himself, requested the local management to match him with the best 125-lb man in the business. In Wilson he will face a rugged boxer who knows the game from all angles, and if the sailor boy holds his own with the New York man, his name will be as well known in the east, as it is now in the west.

The unfortunate ending of the wrestling match last evening was a disappointment to the followers of the sport. It was a tough old go and Burns found Draak a hard man to beat. Up to the time Draak hit the dance hall floor for a goal, he was more than holding his own with Cyclone. Bill Dryden did a good piece of work in getting this noted pair of mat men together in Portsmouth. Burns is scheduled to meet George Monte at the Grand Opera House, Boston, Thursday night. Manich recently gave Cyclone one of the hardest battles of his career and two weeks ago was in straight falls from Draak in Boston.

The usual comedian was in attendance at the wrestling match and the man on the left hand side of the gallery who kept up "What time is it now?" will be awarded the prize as chief entertainer of the evening.

Young Herman, the middleweight grappler from Pennsylvania, who wrestled the fifteen minute preliminary against Stanton, Pluton in this city three weeks ago, and also challenged Dryden, is now in Manchester and has issued a challenge to the winner of the Kilonia-Poulog match. Herman did not show much speed in his work on the mat in this city, but is rated as a good man. Among his recent accomplishments is a win over Bill Montford and a two hour draw with J. G. Brown who wrestled Bill Dryden here a few weeks ago.

Howard Eastbrook as referee seems company from attempting to stage it. It was finely staged and the large audience, for the house was sold out early in the evening, showed their appreciation by frequent outbursts of applause.

Miss Myrtle is wonderfully strong in her part of Ellen Neal and she received fine support from Jack Dettla as Hugh Fullerton and in fact from the entire company. The cast:

Mrs. Fullerton Corda Davy
Richard Fullerton Charles E. Ward
Edwards W. J. McCarthy
Anne Fullerton Ruth Ames
Ellen Neal Emma Myrtle
Arthur Cuckley P. S. Whitman
Hugh Fullerton Jack Berlin
Judge Samuel Filson Ralph Brady
W. P. Valey Fred Woodbury
Judge of Police Court

FAST BOUTS THIS EVENING

The first of what is hoped will be a series of boxing bouts in this city will be held at Freeman's hall this evening and it looks like a real evening of sport. The main bout is between Johnny Wilson of New York and Pinkie Crosby of the U. S. S. Frederick, one of the best 125 lbs in the United States Navy.

Crosby has the entire confidence of the entire ship's company and they claim that he has not been defeated since he entered the service but in Wilson he meets a boy that has been holding his own with any of the middle weight men of the country.

The semi finals will also be a fast bout, Young Dison of New Bedford and Young Dempsey of Lynn, who will go eight rounds. Another preliminary will be a four round bout between Solder and White, two boys from the U. S. S. Frederick, fast and clever kids. Another preliminary will be Coon and O'Brien.
